18

NGEI and the CalED RFP

- New Generation of Educators Initiative (NGEI) five Key Transformation Elements reflect quality practices of CSU campuses
- They are standards aligned with, and provide an organizing framework for, high quality teacher preparation
- CalED RFP is an opportunity to sustain work begun in the NGEI initiative
- NGEI funds can be used as a match where CalEd funds are scaling up NGEI work

19

NGEI and the CalED RFP

- The system and NGEI present a unique chance to focus on teacher residency designs
- The National Center for Teacher Residencies can assist in application – supporting district partnerships and regional and statewide collaborations

20

Key Transformation Elements

Partnership

- Maintain and deepen partnerships at multiple levels between the CSU campus and the K-12 districts who hire the teachers trained by funded pathway(s), using data about student populations, instructional practices, and hiring projections to align programming as much as possible to local needs.

Prioritized Skills

- Identify, in partnership, the key skills, knowledge, and dispositions ("prioritized skills") of a well prepared new teacher. Ensure that this set of prioritized skills is aligned to the requirements of the Common Core and Next Generation Science Standards. Select an appropriate rubric to measure progress toward these prioritized skills. Where appropriate, demonstrate alignment with Beginning Teacher Performance Expectations, and district-identified teaching effectiveness frameworks.

Practice-Based Clinical Preparation

- Build and refine opportunities for candidates to gain fluency with prioritized skills during clinical preparation, ideally of a full school year in length, at strategically selected school sites with well trained mentor / cooperating teachers.

21

S. D. Bechtel, Jr. Foundation

Key Transformation Elements

Formative Feedback on Prioritized Skills

- Identify and continue to strengthen opportunities for candidates to receive feedback on their mastery of prioritized skills during clinical preparation. Faculty, supervisors or clinical coaches, and mentor/cooperating teachers should all give calibrated feedback on the same skills.

Data-Driven Continuous Improvement

- Collect data on candidate progress toward facility with prioritized skills during preparation and after graduation, building data-sharing partnerships where necessary to ensure access to information. Use this data to effect changes at the college, department, program, course, and coaching relationship levels. Continue to use data to refine definition of the prioritized skills new teachers must master.

The Key Transformation Elements align closely with several of the CalED priorities, including regional collaboration between LEAs and post-secondary education.
